

TYPE O NEGATIVE

 JUNE UK TOUR FOLLOWS RAVE REVIEWS OF NEW 'DEAD AGAIN' CD *****

“Distilling and blending a career’s worth of invention into 10 stunning tracks, they’ve created a wet dream of a record. Packed with thick Sabbath guitars, lush epic melodies, breakneck stompers, deep romanticism, biting sarcasm and a sprawling sense of morbidity, this really bears every hallmark of vintage Type O without simply recycling past glories. KKKK” – Dan Slessor, Kerrang! March 17th 2007.

Multi-million selling Gothic Doom Metallars Type O Negative, who released ‘Dead Again’, their first studio for four years, on SPV Records on March 19th, have confirmed a headline UK tour in June. Dates are:-

19th June Manchester Academy 2
20th June Birmingham Academy
21st June London Astoria

Clocking in at 77.35 minutes, ‘Dead Again’, Type O’s seventh studio album, a 10-song musical journey through the darkest depths of the human condition, is a glorious return to the sonic bombast that the Brooklyn-based band is famous for.

Love, loss, insanity, morality, mayhem, your secret dreams and worst nightmares are all included in the Type O Negative formula created by the self-taught professor of emotional chemistry, Peter Steele (Vox/bass). Recorded and Produced by Steele and Josh Silver (keys) the sound of darkness is prophetic, the rock is hard, and the screams are real.

No other band pairs metallic maliciousness, self-contemptuous cynicism, world- and love -weariness, epic melancholia and danceable pop appeal as perfectly, and never is this more apparent than on ‘Dead Again’.

Type O Negative signed a new record deal with SPV in 2005, and reaffirmed and resolute, they recorded ‘Dead Again’, ten killer songs, liberally infused with massive, melodic, gloomy, down-tuned guitar riffs and Peter Steele’s dry, morbid and self-ironic sense of humour.

On ‘Dead Again’ Type O Negative bring you news from a darker place...A place of infinitely organized chaos where the living cannot be swayed from their infinite circle of creation and destruction.
